CHILD'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

Gassa Falcona Run Over Trying Steal Ride.

The coroner's jury which held an in-quest over the body of six-year-old Gassa Falcona, the little Italian child who was found nearly dead in the arms of his sister at First street and New York avenue northwest Friday morning, and who later died at the Homeopathic Hospital, rendered a verdict of death by accident.

For some time it appeared as if the cause of the child's death would remain a mystery. At the inquest, however, it developed that the child was run over while attempting to steal a ride on a huckster wagon.

While in Washington with a party of tourists from Germany, Mrs. Kirt Riemer, of Dresden, lost a leather handbag containing three 100-mark notes, $5 in United States money, and a silver pencil, the total value of which is about $110. The loss was re-ported to the police last night by Dr. George Barthelme, of 1452 Massachu-

George Barthelme, of 1453 Massachusetts avenus.

The money was lost last Wednesday night when Mrs. Riemer was on her way from Union Station. She said she was positive she had not been robbed, but believed the bag had either been lost on the street car or left on the Pullman car.

The police are making every effort to locate the missing property. Mrs. Riemer left for Atlantic City yesterday.
